MILITARY PARADE.-The Raleigh Light Infantry were out yesterday afternoon on their monthly parade, making quite a handsome appearance, though in rather small force. It is a pity that a company so handsomely uniformed and so admirably drilled does not do itself justice by full ranks when it comes out.

HEAVY SALES OF TOBACCO .- On the 17th inst. Messrs. Reams, & Walker sold at their warehouse at Durham 42.443 lbs. of tobacco, fat prices ranging from $12 to $75 per 100 lbs., being compelled for want of room to hold over to the next day over 15,000 lbs. From present indications, Durham will soon be unsurpassed as a tobacco market by any other place in the country.

The court then commenced the consideration of the case of Salter vs. Wm. Johnston, of Littleton, Halifax county, the latter party being sued for the recovery of a nursery sold under a mortgage but claimed by Salter. The examination of

THE SCATTERED NATION -Every body turned out last night to hear the now famous lecture of Z. B. Vance on the "Scattered Nation," attracted as much by the fame of the orator as by the laudable object of aiding the young wounded men of the Artillery, on whose behalf the lecture was so generously delivered. Tucker Hall was filled with beauty and fashion, with the young and the old, with the professional man and with the mechanic, all eager to make their contribution to so noble a purpose. The military were there in their full uniform to express in their soldierly way a soldierly sympathy. Rarely has there been an occasion that has drawn out so large an audience so thoroughly animated by one impulse. It will not do to say, however, that benevolent feeling was the sole incentive to such a gathering. There were very many whose anxiety to hear the distinguished speaker needed no stimulus to add themselves to the auditory. A speech that has awakened unbounded admiration wherever heard, sharpened the eagerness of those who know only by report, to taste for themselves a fruit so much appreciated by others.

There was no room for diappoint ment, Z. B. Vance never fails, and whether in high flights of eloquence, or in inimitable bursts of humor, whether in his bright flashes of wit or in the steady pace of narrative, the speaker was equally happy. No one will forget his introduction, grand and poetical, and an ingenious and original adaptation of a well known physical phenomenon.

The flow of the mighty current of unmingled with the surrounding waters, was made the type of the Jewish race, dating back into a misty historical epoch, preserving to these latter days its identity, its individualities, its national characteristics of feature, of manners, of religigion, sweeping on in the majestic dignity of a profound faith to that destiny its prophecies and its traditions hold out before it, unchanged by contact with other nations, uncontaminated by mixture with foreign blood, unshaken in faith, unbroken in hope.

But we cannot do justice to a production which has the judgment of profounder critics than ourselves. We know that the whole audience will agree that no praise can be too lavish for that which filled almost every conception of what was eloquent, what was graceful, and above all what was just to a race upon whom the world for so many ages has united to beap its contumely, and to whom the Christian world has denied its meagerest charity. Verily the Christian, quite as much as the Jew. owes some thanks to Z. B. Vance for presenting his noble view of this long suffering and much wronged

For the Daily News. The Tobacco Business in Durham.

DURHAM, June 17th. Dear News:—This seems to be the place to sell Tobacco, if for nothing else. Early yesterday afternoon long strings of wagons could be seen on the road, loaded with the weed, wending their way to the different ware-houses in town. I will remark here that there are three ware-houses at which tobacco is sold at auction to the highest bidder on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, of each week. The first and the one doing the largest business is the Durham Ware-house by Messrs. Reams & Walker, the second is the "Farmers," by E. N. Parrish Esq., and the third is the "Planters," by Messrs. Hunt & Thomas. The bidding is very spirited, and large numbers of buyers attend, from various port to-day is, that the prices obtained in Durham are much better than in Danville or Richmond, so that it certainly is to the interest of the farmer to take his tobacco where he can realize the best price. We say therefore bring it to Durham. At the clo of the sale to-day, we interviewed that wholesale gentleman Henry Reams of the "Durham warehous and from his account of Sales Book. which he kindly furnished us, the number of pounds actually sold was 42,443, and for want of room, they had to hold over about 15,000 until to-morrow. The prices obtained to-daywere from $12, to $75, per hundred. This certainly speakswell for has house; the other houses also had very good sales, both together reaching 25, or 80,000 pounds.

Raleigh on Monday last to attend the Commencement exercises of the Wesleyan Female College, and write you briefly of what I have seen and njoyed. Reaching the village at 7 p. m., I soon find myself in the capacious building which was to be the scene of so much mirth and festivity. With a kindly recognition from the President, I was ushered into the capacious chapel al-ready filled with the chivalry and beauty of many States. Awaiting the commencement of the exercises, I took a survey of the room, and was struck with the number and yariety of beautiful paintings which adorned the halls and which were sufficently indicative of the progress made by fact, the whole scene was one of love liness and filled me with the liveli-

The exercises opened with vocal and instrumental music, the rendi tion of which was faultless and which gained smiles of approval from the audience. This finished, the annual address of the "M. P. S." Literary Society was delivered by Rev. Mr. Hannon, of Baltimore, who handled his subject, "Self-Development," with ease and displayed a skill and ability seldom to be met with in or-dinary life. After the address, music and the benediction, all left, filled with bright anticipations of the coming day.

A PECULIAR FOOT RACE.-The festivities incident to a marriage at Christianburg Va., seems to say the least somewhat peculiar. It is stated that a venerable preacher that place recently married a couple when, upon the conclusion of the ceremony, the bride challenged the preacher to a foot race. The old man 60 years accepted the challenge at once and preparations were made for the contest. At the dropping of the hat parson and the bride gether at a tremendious rate of speed. amid the enthusiastic applause of the bystanders. At first the young wo-men fairly flew, leaving the veteran considerably in the rear, but later in the race the old gentlemans' admirably staying qualities told in his fovor. Such are the simple but healthful amusements of the good people of Christianburg, Va., when two hearts which beat as one are joined. ----

THE SOUTH AND THE NORTH AT BUNKER HILL.—The Herald of Thurday, in its special dispatches from Boston, under date of Wednesday, has the following item: reception this morning of the Char-leston (S. C.) Light Infantry and the Old Guard, of New York, was perfect ovation. The appearance in the streets of Boston of a company which was actively engaged in the late civil war on the Confederate side was made the occasion for a reminder to our Southern brethren that the feelings of bitterness which might have been entertained toward the South during the war had been entirely obliterated, and that hereafter we are to be brothers of one quarts per day, which sells readily at fifteen cents. The expense of keeping is put down at twenty-five cents per day.

A few years ago there was a man who had been educated in our West Point Academy at the public expense. He had dropped out of the army and become a hauler of cord wood to the St. Louis market. Common report says he used to be found dallying long by the roadside on his way home.

Later he was a clerk in a leather store in Galena, very poor. He was appointed a colonel in the army, and promoted and promoted and promoted, until he had the command of all our armies. Many persons always thought that much, very

We know that if digestion or the habit of the body is obstructed, the entire physique is weakened in consequence of insufficient conversion of the food into blood; and it is equally eer ain that the refuse of the system not being wholly thrown off is sure to contaminate the vital fluid and surcharge the bowels and kidneys with vitiated matter which weakens and inflames them. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. THE NEEDLE COTTON GIN.

The American Needle Gin now enters upon its sixth year. During the past season its reputation has been widely extended by its successful operation—competing at many of the Southern fairs, and bearing away first premiums. In the gin-house it has eclipsed its most successful record at fairs. A report from one of our Sixty circle Condenser Gins in Georgia, says: "That during the ginning season it ginned 728 bales of cotton." In South Carolina a gin of the same size ginned a bale weighing 519 pounds in forty-five minutes. From many other reports the fact is pretty well established that a fifty circle will gin a 500 bale in sixty-five minutes. At the Wilmington, N. C. Fair a forty circle ginned 100 ibs. seed cotton in six minutes, yielding thirty-six pounds of lint. At the State Fair of South Carolina, held at Columbia, in December last, a Thirty Circle Condenser was run in the open air through which boxes of parlor matches and nails were put without setting fire to the cotton or injuring the reedle.

THE WEEKLY NEWS is the cheapest paper published in North Carolina. It is only one dollar per year, postage paid, contains 32 columns of plain printed news from every section of the country, and important advertisements. Always Cash.

We have spared our readers the nuisance of the Beecher trial. The public may be glad to hear that it is near its end, and that a subject so injurious to religion and so degrading to morality is soon to give place to some other nine days wonder for the sensation lovers of the Boston has been sincere in her promises of conciliation. The Southern Soldier has been received as a brother. No pains were spared to make the ovation to them generous cordial, heartfelt. Not only no trace of past hostility was seen, but a rivalry among all classes to efface all impression of former antagonism, and strew the pathway of the present with the fragrant flowers of reconcilement. The extremes of the country have again clasped hands in cordial brotherhood.

Our friends of the Goldsboro Messenger and the Newbern Journal of Commerce arraign us, but very courteously, for our opposition to the change of the gauge on the Atlantic Road.

We cannot readily fall into the reasoning of those journals as to the liberty given to other roads in the State to do what has been adjudged by the Supreme Court to be in the power of the North Carolina Road. The decision of the Supreme Court cannot bring about what the friends of that road say the Legislature has not done-define a rail road policy for the State. To follow out the inferences of the Messenger and Journal of Commerce, the action of the North Carolina Rail Road in changing the gauge of the road throughout its whole length, has defined a policy, because, according to them, all other connecting roads must conform to the gauge of that road. But because the charter of the A. & N. C. R. R. requires the gauge to be of the same width as the North Carolina Rail Road, and to connect with it at Goldsboro, does it follow that the Atlantic road is compelled to follow the North Carolina road through all its caprices? Suppose it should become to the interest of that road to adapt a three foot gauge-a gauge quite popular in some sections of the country-is it to be argued that the Atlantic road would be compelled forthwith, in order to maintain its integrity, and preserve its connections at Goldsboro, to adopt the three foot gauge? We scarcely think so, and yet this is the irresistable conclusion to be drawn from the position of those journals.

The imposition of an obligation upon the Atlantic road to conform to the gauge of the North Carolina road was founded upon the fixed and recognized fact of a gauge, which, whether recognized specifically or not in the charter of the North Carolina road, was accepted as the standard for all other roads originating in the State. If the reasoning of the Messenger and Journal is correct, then a great hardship is worked, because a compulsory change must be made in other roads of the State, and a violent, arbitrary and injurious revolution wrought in the whole rail road system of the State.

We have every interest in seeing our sea ports built up, and objection to the change on the Atlantic road originates in no hostility to Beaufort.

But there is no reason to be in haste to follow the example of the North Carolina road. It will be time enough when its action is fully sustained.

The advices from England withn the past two days mention some of the heaviest failures that have yet occurred in that nation of colossal transactions. Within the last three days failures have occured, involving many millions of dollars. The downfall of the Aberda: e iron company has been followed by the suspension of houses engaged in the East India trade, and now the whole fabric of credit is threatened, for there is such a close connection and such active sympathy between all, that what af fects one must react upon all. And unfortunately what affects England, also affects all the rest of the world. The United States is shaken as severely as the countries beyond the Ocean. And though we of the South have no direct connection with English commercial transactions, through the North, we are immediately and directly concerned. The great staples of the South are the moving springs of the commerce of the world. England is our largest customer, and whatever diminishes her power to purchase recoils as a calamity upon the South. The South is as much interested in the commercial welfare of England as in her own, because the interest is really identical. The calamity to England promises therefore to be a calamity to the whole United States. The commercial stricture of the last two years was slowly yielding to the effects of time, to prudence and to economy. We very much apprehend that the day of full relief is yet far in the future.

It is curious to note the wide spread and intimate connection between the varied interests of the world and their reaction one upon the other. The extravagant operations of Jay Cooke & Co. resulted in their failure two years ago. That failure resulted in a check to railroad enterprises. That check now brings about the failure of the large iron establishments, and they in turn bring to their fall other and large interests in England and eventually throughout the world.

The South is better able to look forward to future trouble than it was two years ago. It owes much less money abroad. It has the prospect of fine crops of all descriptions before it. It is producing more of provisions, and it has bought less of fertilizers than before, and even should prices rule lower than at present, the nett proceeds will be greater than before, because there is less to go out for the payment of old debts or the purchase of farm supplies.

A few days will tell what the effect of those English failures will have upon general business.

IMMIGRATION.

We are glad to see in the Irish World, a most influential paper in the city of New York, an article on the subject of immigration to the South. The World draws attentention, as we have done, to the advantages possessed by the South over the West, so long the " promised land" to the emigrant, but now developing rapidly so many elements of disaster and disappointment, that the display of the promises of the South are opportune.

The World says "there is abundance of virgin forest, and the hills are filled with iron and coal .-The climate throughout most of the Southern States is unequalled for health and temperature. The rivers are never frozen, and the cattle can graze all winter."

This is true more particularly as regards North Carolina and a great p rt of Virginia, which lo'd out more certain promises than almost any region on this continent. With unsurpassed salubrity and healthfulness of climate, with soil much of it rich—all of it capable of high improvement, with a wonderful variety of productions, embracing everything that is raised in every other State in the Union, with mines, and minerals, forests, and water power, that give capacity for unlimited improvement—with a rapidly developing system of internal improvement, already large enough for present wants, with proximity to the markets of the world, with schools and churches and settled society, and withal, with lands cheap as they can now be had in the most eligible points in the West, there is no reason why the flow of immigration should not be turned into these States.

Virginia has done something. North Carolina little or nothing, and seems determined to do nothing. Until Legislators learn that to an increase of population must be looked to the development of the dormant resources of the Stater, they wil hesitate to accept the odinm attach. Cook."

A COMMERCIAL THUNDER- ed to any appropriations necessary to be used in inviting that population. Until the people admit the fact that increased population diminishes the burdens of taxation by dividing them among a large number, they will not authorize what they now regard as a socculative or local appropriation of the public money. Yet the results embraced in these two propositions are undeniable, and there can be no wiser, no more patriotic labor than the determination to dissipate the errors which obstruct this very subject of immigration.

> We close for the present with the closing paragraph from the article in the Irish World:

"It is to be hoped that the Southern legislators will see the necessity for some vigorous policy, looking to the encouragement of emigration. and its subsequent protection. If one-hait the money spent on railroads and other swindling undertakings by all the Southern States since the war, had been used to transport emigrants and give them free farms, the South would be far richer, happier, and with a more brilliant future to day. We hope our Southern brethren will give this subject the thought

The Utica Asylum-Sights and Scene in the Institution - Microscopic Investigation - A Lunch and a Mysterious Beyerage-Mr. Campbell, the Famous Stock-Breeder-On the Road Again - Genesee NIAGARA, N. Y., May - 1875. Dear News :- We left our party olling through the broad portals and sweeping around the grand circle of the Insane Asylum at Utica. The scene within is exceedingly beautiful the roadway curving through broad spaces of fresh green grass, with en-chanting groups of shrubbery and shade trees, whence the shadows play in fitful tracery upon the sward as smooth as a floor. A high flight of stone steps leads to the pillared front, and within we find our distinguished host, Dr. Gray, and his corps of physicians and the ladies of his household ready to greet us. A brief visit to the reception and consulta-tion rooms and the library, is first in order. Here every object bespeaks the mission for which this superb edifice was built-rare and costly works upon obscure nervous maladies, busts and pictures of physicians famous in their treatment of insanity Dr. Brigham's face can not be mistaken, identified as he was with the early history of the institution; yonder is the sphygmograph to register the pulse beat; there is a model of the appearance of the human ear, in characteristic affection of the insane, termed bæmatonia auris.

But our ranks are marshalled, and off we go on our long tour of inspection, ward after ward, through this great quandrangle. I find myself enjoying the delightful companionship of our venerable friend from New Brunswick, Dr. Waddell, and he courteous and instructive talk of Dr. Andrews, the Principal Assistant Physician of the institution, known throughout the Union by his profound article in the Journal of In-

We pass ward after ward, enjoy the alcoves and bays with their flowers and ferneries and birds, and the engravings and chromos everywhere dorning the walls, visit the kitchen, view the gigantic boilers and engine room, observe with interest the new and valuable centrifugal wringer, in the washing department, then the dying rooms, and down, down to the regions where the mighty fan drives its currents through the air chamber for the ventilation of the building Nor do we omit a visit to the conservatory, with its bewildering array of cacti and other tropical plants, and the bright pelargoniums, calceolarias, colues, alternantheras, and many foliage plants of all sorts for bedding

All the institutions we observe are well provided with flowering plants, both for outdoor beauty and indoor enjoyment, everthing which gives sure to refined tastes being val ued as a great means of moral treatment in the cure that is sought.

To us, there was an absorbing interest in the work we saw progressing for science, in the room over the western archway. There are the microscopic examination of the brain made, slowly furnishing to the world the data, for building a new science, and establishing to all time the fame of the physicians who are developing it. We saw some sections of the medulla directly through the instrument. Certainly, there can be no finer apparatus in the country. The only one we have ever seen, that approaches it in beauty of definition, is Prof. Sedgwick's of New York. Still farther up stairs, the heliostal was at work, painting its marvellous hotographs.

Leaving the realms of abstract next cience, your correspondent next found himself, making a sketch of a remarkably well arranged drying-yard for clothes, with an energetic friend Dr. Baldwin of Staunton, who s a great admirer of the practical. It may be remarked that this institution combines the pay feature with the ordinary support of certain patients, from the several counties. Some of these wards, being tenanted by people of great wealth, were correspondingly elegant. We met some ladies whose suberb laces and ilks, and whose ease and dignity of manner could not be surpassed anywhere. Their meals are served in private, and they have their special attendants, so that every comfort is at their disposal that is compatible with the existence of their dread misfortune. Somehow, it is whispered around that we shall find something agreeble in the suite of parlors above, and as we walk the hall, behold a punch bowl that to our wondering yes is the twin brother of the migh ty relic of antiquity, sacred to apple-toddy in the old days of the Rich-mond Light Infantry Blues, and in whose capacious mouth we remem-ber seeing Washington's Birth-day once. This Brobignag swims with claret punch. Beyond is the feast which with attic irony, our friends call a lunch. Well, language could do it no justice, and we might as well confess it in the beginning. But for the cook who conceived the treatment of that glorious Salmon in its dainty garnishing, and all the array through to the fairy bonbons of the close, verily your correspondent recognizes his rank as an artist.— Surely he was a Pre-Raphaelite of the first order, and one longs to fling a votive garland "to the Unknown

The ladies, including Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Andrews of the institution, Mrs. Nichols of Washington, Miss Carlyle and Miss Kirkbride of Philadelphia, and our fair Carolinian friend were the centre of attraction, and none were more assiduous than the handsome young physicians, Drs. Livingstone and Ford. Nor in this connection should we forget Dr. Miller of Auburn and Dr. Nellis of Willard. As these younger members of the profession may come South some day, and there are no pre-emp-tion rights upon them, it is not fair to omit the courtesies they exhibited

There was a little study up stairs, in which there was said to be some-thing very rare and potent, in the nature of an amber fluid, above which curled the fragrant perfumes of Havana and the Sweet South. With the fear of your untiring and indefatigable Ramsay before my eyes, your correspondent will not dare to intimate what this precious liquid was. He will only say that it was something which would have awakened in our friend Woodson sentiments of exceeding great aversion and profound disgustvided he had only seen from withtleman who is pretty well known to fame Mr. Campbell, the seller and breeder of the famous forty thousand dollar cattle. He is a manager of the Asylum. Mr. C. is a very large man, odeed of extraordinary size, with tine frank face, and manners like bluff hearty Kentuckian of the olden time. On our making some inqui-ries natural to the subject, of the im-mense prices of his stock, he replied with the utmost nonchalance, Why said he, my herd was the best in the world, and they knew it. There were agents there from England, prepared to pay any amount, and the men who bought were well content with the price. Mr. C. is the father-in-law of Dr. Andrews. He soon made himself a general favorite, We heard afterwards that an English nobleman who bought a cow at that sale had already sold a calf at four years of age, for thirty thousand doi-

The final meeting of the Associa tion now took place, and was deeply interesting. Philadelphia was adopted as the next place of meeting. Dr. Bucknill of England made a spee h of thanks for his courteous welcome on the part of the profession in the U.S., and Dr. Grissom of North Carolina rendered in feeling and a propriate terms the thanks of the commission from that State, for the great and universal kindness and consideration bestowed upon them by the Association. To these Dr. Nichols, the President, happily resresponded, and after short speech Drs. Kirkbride and Me-Donald the session : djourned sine cie. The sun descenus the western hills, the carriages are announced we say good bye to many whom we ot meet again, and hurry off to the city and the depot. Deslining the kindly invitations to entertainments near New York city, a ride around Blackwells Island and the sights of the city charities, we turn our faces westward, for a tho ough inspection of the new works no x in process of erection at Buffalo. The venerable President of of Greensboro, has telegraphed that he will meet us in Philace phia, and we must finish in New York, and join him at once.

So once again to Syracuse, where coffee is miraculously dispatched, and the last of o r friends say goodby, then a moonlight ride to Gene see Falls, where we take a ten minutes walk, and see the spot, where Sam Patch killed himself after his successful leaps at Niagara in 1829. Hurrying back we pass Rochester, and turning down from Lake On tario, go on to our destination for the morrow, Niagra Falls, It will be Sunday, and we propose neither to work nor to travel, but to enjoy this great revelation of God to man, in he sublimest piece of his earthly h undiwork.

The Reception of south rn Soldiers at Boston.

Advices from Boston State that a most hearty and in some instances enthusiastic receptions were given the Sonthern Military Companies that have this week been visiting Boston, the occasion of the Bunker Hill Centennial. The arrival of the Norfolk artillery, says a dispatch, escorting as their guest General Fitzhugh Lee, afforded a cheerful spec-tacle of the loyal people of Boston paying an ovation to an ex-Confederate officer. General Lee bower again and again as applause greeted him on every corner. A tattered bat-tle flag of a Pennsylvania regiment as it passed up State street was also saluted with rounds of applause, and the spectacle of such an era of reunion and fellowship was one never to be forgotten.

At Columbus Equare, where the formal reception was held, a grand stand and a smaller platform for the accommodation of the speaker had been erected, and both were crowded with ladies and gentlemen. Hon. Josiah Quincy's address or welcome was responded to by Major G. W. McLean, of the Old Guard, of New York, whose short speech was followed by another from Hon. John Quincey Adams, who said in sub-

You are come here to march tomorrow to Bunker Hill, and on that sacred ground, once for all, to bury any ill blood and misunderstanding which may have existed between us. You can do no better work. You are come so that once more we may pledge ourselves to a new union. Not a union merely of law, simply of the lips, by no means a union of the sword, but the only true union, a union of hearts. To that duty let us devote ourselves. Knowing that you come with that feeling in your hearts, with that work of reconciliation inscribed on your banners, you are peculiarly welcome.

Col. Thos. Y. Simmons replied, his speech being noticeable for the warm sympathy of his companions and his people with the event of the hour. He promised that henceforth and forever Massachusetts and South Carolina will be one and inseparable for the cause of liberty. His remarks were received with rounds of cheers.

Mr. Beach continued his very able argument in the Tilton-Beecher case, in the Brooklyn City Court, Wedneslay. His analysis of the evidence was thorough, and his construction of the correspondence between Beecher and Mrs. Tilton, and the relations shown to be existing between the two parties, very critical. It was announced that Mr. Beach would conc'u le vesterday (Friday) afternoon, when Judge Neilson will adjourn the court until Monday, and then give the case to the jury for its decision.

As an evidence of the effect of the isury law, we append the following from the Charlotte Observer: "We tepped into one of the Charlotte Banks yesterday and saw immense piles of greenbacks packed up in nice little bundles, of one hundred lar packages, as if ready for ship ment. Upon inquiry we learned that the amount in dollars was fifty thousand, and that its destination was Columbia, S. C. Upon further iquiry we learned that all the surplus cash that could be spared was being sent North or South where there are no usury laws. DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL COM-MITTEE TO THE PEOPLE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

ROOMS OF THE DEMOCRATIC CON-SERVATIVE CENT'L EX. COM. RALEIGH, June 1st. '75. To the People of North Carolina: The General Assembly at its reent session called a Convention of the people to meet at Raleigh on the 6th day of September next, for the purpose of suggesting such alterations in our organic law as may be deemed wise and expedient.

NECESSITY FOR CHANGE. The necessity for changing many of the provisions of the existing Con-stitution is generally admitted, and is too apparent to require extended argument. It is true that some of our prominent men at one time opposed the call for a convention; but their action was based on prudential consideration, and not on an indisposition to have the Constitution thoroughly revised. They feared that our purpose in seeking to reform our Fundamental Law, might be misconstrued by the violent and ill-informed men then controlling Congress, and the prosperity of our people checked, and the peace of the State jeopardized by some barsh and unconstitutional action on the part of the United States authorities. That fear no longer exists. We now have every assurance that the Constitution of the United States will be observed by the officers of the Government, and feel a satisfaction in announcing to you that the time has at last arrived when the officials at Washington City concede that the pecple of North Carolina have the same right to manage their local concerns which the citizens of other States enjoy. We can proceed without apprehension to perfect our Constitution and remodel it in the interests of our people.

THE CONSTITUTION, THE CREATURE OF MILITARY LAW. This Constitution, the creature of

Military dictation, was born in the throes of a Military reconstruction. Its authors were mainly Sciolists and adventurers, who had lived among us without preferment, or possessed of qualifictions entitling them to it; others were our recent slaves, who had known no law save the will of their masters, and others still were carpet-baggers, both black and white-alien in feeling and Radical in education-who sought positions here that were denied them where known-to despoil and humiliate us. And when their work was submitted to the people at the polls, thousands of our best citizens were deprived of the right of voting upon it, and over eighty thousand ignorant negroes were given the ballot to secure its adoption. It is no exaggeration to say that not one person in ten who voted for it could read the instrument, and not one in fifty had read it or was even moderately familiar with its provisions, and many gave it their support beleiving it would be merely tempo-rary, and to escape further agitation and revolution. It is natural therefore that a Constitution thus formed and adopted should be found unsuitedt o our condition, and that we should embrace the earliest opportunity consistent with reason and prudence to secure such changes as time and experience have shown to be necessary. Our organic law should be expressed in language clear, simple and perspicuous, so that nothing may be left to inference or construction; our rights, so precisely defined as to be comprehended by all men of ordinary intelligence; and each de-partment of the government should be so restricted, that while left free to discharge its appropriate duties, it cannot by unwarranted encroachments embarrass the proper action of

THE CONSTITUTION UNSUITED TO OUR

That the Constitution contains some good provisions no one denies; it would be singular if it did not, but its abominable characteristics were so manifest that not a single Conservative member of the Convention that passed it could be induced to affix his signature to it, as a fit in-strument to be submitted to the people. Indeed its provisions are so loosely worded and so badly arranged as to constitute but a medley of inconsistencies that defies the successful construction of the courts; in fact, to reconcile the difficulties arising from its practical workings, the court has in some instances been driven to supply omissions, and in others to introduce a new principle, hitherto unknown in the juridical history of our State, distinguished as "judicial legislation," an innovation anti-republican in character and invasive of the rights and duties of a separate department. Its provisions are so obscure that within the brief space of its existence many more decisions on constitutional questions have been de-manded than in the entire previous history of the State-and of late we have witnessed the extraordinary spectacle of two sets of judges in both the 2d and 8th Judicial Districts, contending for the same position one of which claiming to hold by at appointment from the Governor for a period of ten years, an office that the Constitution seems to say is to be filled by the people at the polls, and whose term is expressed to be only eight years. In many counties, there is a practical denial of justice, the courts are inadequate to the public demands, and thus they are driven to resort to special terms, which are expensive and unsatisfactory, and persons accused of criminal offenses are often confined for months without trial. We need a speedier justice and a less expensive judiciary system. We should abolish every useless office, which is now filled by a mere consumer; for only by a rigid and prudent economy in our public as well as private affairs, can we hope to restore the State to prosperity. It is believed that the laws will be more impartially administered by a return to the old practice of a rotation of the Judges.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CRIMINAL LAW NECESSARY. It is also hoped that a greater in-centive to honesty and a purification of the ballot box might result from depriving those who are convicted of infamous crimes of the elective fran-

The matter of the Penitentiary which already contains more than six hundred able-bodied men, also demands careful and practical attention, to remove in some measure that burden from our shoulders. Most of our private legislation should be excluded from the General Assembly. However, our limited space does not permit us to catalogue the numerous defects and imperfections of the present constitution or to enumerate the remedies to be offered.

There should be some general ordinance adopted in relation to private enactments, thereby reducing the expenses of the Legislature, and in or-der to prevent hasty and inconsider-ate legislation, that no new

As to the specific changes that bught to be made, these are to be considered by the citizens of the various counties, who should be careful to select as delegates those who will properly reflect their wishes. Men of enlarged and practical statesman ship, spotless integrity, representa-tives of all classes of society, and whose positions among them will en-title their labors to confidence and support-and in their hands they certainly can more safely confide their rights than in the Conven tion of 1868.

METHODS OF CHANGE. Of the two methods prescribed for changing the Constitution, that by legislative enactment is expensive, uncertain and dangerous; the several amendments recently submitted to and ratified by the people encoun-tered the greatest difficulties in their passage, and even after the will of the people was declared in their favor by over 40,000 majority, serious apprenensions were entertained as to whether they were properly adop'ed; again, legislators when possessed of qualifications for such duties, are encombered with numerous matters, and cannot bring that attention to each provision presented for consideration, without meeting such criticisms as may imperil their labors.

The Convention method is speedy and economical, the body is composed only of the same number of nembers as comprise the House of Representatives, and their minds are directed alone to constitutional reforms and their work may be completed and ratified, if necessary, in six months. As to the expenses may be incurred, it is believed they will be more than defrayed in a short time by the reforms that will be inaugurated.

The restrictions imposed by the Legislature, fully and amply secure the Homestead, Mechanics Lien, Rights of married women, and Presonal Liberty, and should quiet the fears of the most timid, for they are recognized as of binding efficacy and are chiefly enjoyed by the friends of constitutional reform. Indeed they were incorporated in the bill mainly to remove partizan clamor, and antic ipate unscrupulous agitation. They are not the property of a mere party, but had their origin in the necesisties of civilized society and were found among the statutes of various States previous to the war.

QUALIFICATIONS OF DELEGATES. It is useless, however, to seek to quiet the mere caviller; the keen opics of some persons defy all law. The mere fact that the honor of the best men in the State is pledged to their preservation, should satisfy every reasonable voter. This Convention is called in pursuance of law, and each delegate be fore "he shall be permitted to sit, to be entitled to a seat in said Convention or act as a delegate thereto, shall swear to observe these "restric tions" (see acts 1874-5). Should a part comply and part refuse to take this oath, only those who obey the law are members of the body, nor are we without precedents; similar oath was required of the members of the "restricted Convention" of 1835, the same question was raised, and after debate all the members took the oath and observed the restrictions, and that in a time of high party excitement. In that discussion the distinguised Judge Gaston used the following language The State Legislature had indeed no authority to impose an oath upon the members of the Convention, but the people had ratifled the act of the Legislature by choosing delegates under it. If we transcend the limits therein prescribed, we are not the Convention called by the people, but a self constituted body;" these views were concurred in by Macon, Ed-wards, Morehead, and others. We will dismiss this subject, however, by calling attention to the able work of Judge Jamieson on "Constitution-al Conventions," where, by argument and the cases cited by him in relation to this matter, he demonstrated that Conventions are bound to obey the restrictions imposed by the Leg-islature in the Act calling the Con-

AID FROM REPUBLICANS. In our last election it was gratify-ing to see Republicans who had hitherto submitted to the control of unscrupulous leaders under a mistaken belief that they were promoting the general welfare, seeing their corruptness as demonstrated by the "Credit Mobilier revelations," "Sanborn Contracts" and other frauds and defalcations, and their vindictive and relentless policy, whereby they sought to degrade the su-perior race by this iniquitous "Civil Rights Bill," overcome their party prejudice and give us their cordial support. To them we extend an invitation to remain and continue the work so auspiciously begun. To those who opposed us under the delusion of their leaders, who assured them this bill would never pass Con-gress and if it did would be vetoed by the President, though it now has his signature; and who have witnessed the earnestness with which the dangerous "Force Bill" was urged upon Congress, we say no longer re-main where there is neither safety nor honor to a North Carolinian. The battle for civil liberty is not yet over. 'Civil Rights" is still a part of the secret carpet-bag programme for this State; though driven from the halls of Congress, it will be renewed in the Southern States. We there fore invite their co-operation. The Convention owes its final success to the support of some of their ablest representatives in the General As-sembly and they are doubtless aware that the wise provisions introduced into the Convention of 1868, by their ablest native representatives were scouted and defeated by that same element that has brought ruin upon their party and confusion to our State.

NECESSITY OF ORGANIZATION. The friends of Convention should at once perfect their organization and bring out their best men in every Connty in the State. The leaders of the Republican party know that by their reckless violations of the con-stitution and efforts to centralize all power in the hands of the Federal Government, they have justly for-feited the confidence and support of the people; they therefore trust not to their own strength but to our apathy, and will endeavor to secure our de-feat by divisions and false leaders. We therefore respectfully invite their attention to the following resolution adopted and successfully followed in our last campaign:

Resolved, That we earnestly recomend to the members of the Democratic Conservative party to discourage independent candidates and all other disorganizers, that all support be promptly withdrawn from every aspirant for office who shall oppose the regular nominees of our Conventions. Let your primary county Conventions be duly advertised, and see ventions be duly advertised and see matters be brought forward within — days of their adjourning.

CAREFUL SELECTION OF DELEGATES.

As to the specific changes that

That the people have a full opportunity of attending and expressing their wishes. The contest is important not only in its immediate effects but in subsequent results. The Republi-can party, under the leadership of carpet-baggers still remaining among us, will advocate the election of delegates, who will agree to meet and ad-journ without holding a Convention, and this in violation of the wishes of the people, expressed through a two-thirds majority of their chosen Representatives, and after a considerable part of the expenses for mileage and per diem is incurred. We believe, how ever the promise is but a delusion and snare, for should they ascertain they have a majority in the body, it will be an easy matter for them to evade their promise by the refusal of a few to concur; as they do not ac-knowledge the "restrctions" as binding, they will resort to the most revolutionary measures to sustain their desperate fortunes, and in the end will fail to submit their work to the people for ratification or rejec-

Let us, therefore, present a united front, and with a general advance along our lines Radicalism will not only be routed but overwhelmed, and a victory for Civil Liberty assured

> J. H. ZEILIN & CO., Macon, Ga., and Philadelphia.

THE SYMPTOMS of Liver Complisint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is MISTAKEN for rheumatism. The stomach is affected with LOSS OF APPETITE and sickness, bowels in general CCSTIVE, sometimes alternating with lax. The HEAD is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable LOSS OF MEMORY, accompanied with painful sensation of having LEFT UNDONE something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, DEBILITY, and low spirits. Sometimes MANY of the above symtoms attend the disease, and at other times very FEW of them; but the LIVER is generally the organ most involved.

Nearly all diseases originate from Indigestion and Torpidity of the Liver, and relie is always anxiously sought after. If the Liver is Regulated in its action, health is almost invariably secured. Want of action in the Liver causes Headache, Constipation, Jaundice, Pain in the Shoulders, Cough, Chilis, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Paipitation of the Heart, depression of spirits, or the blues, and a hundred other symptoms, for which SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is the best remedy that has ever been discovered. It sets mildly, effectually, and being a simple vegetable compound, can do no injury in any quantities that it may be taken. It is harmless in every way; it has been used for forty years, and hundreds of the good and great from all parts of the country will youch for its being the purest and best.
